EXHIBIT NUMBER 12

Justin Baldes Claimed X Husband

Wednesday, October 12, 2016 11:47 PM

From the time I meet Megan she has always told me horror stories of her X Husband which with the stories I had heard I swore to hear he would never get near her or Eva again. I was told as well as family friends everyone who knows Megan has been told these horror stories about him. One story bothered all of us a lot especially my mom which was when Megan was 8 Months pregnant she claimed that her X Husband Justin Baldes kicked her down a flight of stairs killing their unborn child. She claimed to me that was when she finally left him. Come to find out Megan has never been married so I thought till 2025 and found she had married Jeremy someone I never heard of. Also here is what Justin said when my mom contacted him trying to find the truth to at least some of the lies we have heard.

causing miscarriage. I was there at the hospital with all the blood thinking I was going to lose Megan. If you don't know the whole story please do everyone a favor and shut the fuck up!

Toad Migillicutty

Im asking questions not spreading rumors

im sicken by the stories im hearing

i have no other way to get the truth then to ask questions

I am sorry if I upset you That was not my intention

I do not believe anyone should be allowed to lie about another. This is worse than a simple lie. this is horrible. I am sorry.

Justin Baldes

Well your not my family or Megan's. If there are problems they will be taken care of between me and megan.

Toad Migillicutty

No I am simply Megan's other daughter's grandmother. I just got tired of asking for the truth and no one would tell me. I thank you.

ADMITTING DIAGNOSIS: Inevitable AB at 17 weeks.

HISTORY: The patient is a 19-year-old G2, P1, at 17 weeks gestation by ultrasound today in the emergency room, who presented to the ER with complaints of vaginal bleeding and cramping that began at 1700 on 08/07/2011. Examination in the emergency room, revealed membranes prolapsed into the vaginal vault. No leaking bag of water, fever, chills, or nausea or vomiting were noted. At the time of this evaluation, the patient was continuing to complain of pain and cramping.

Review of ultrasound shows a single intrauterine gestation with an average ultrasound age of 16 weeks 6 days with a heart rate of 157 beats per minute. No amniotic fluid was identified around the fetus on this ultrasound. All the fluid had accumulated in the prolapsed portion of the membranes contained within the vaginal vault. Cervix was only one to two cm at this time.
