Hi all – I just want to emphasize that we cannot discuss the circumstances with the previous placement, and that the girls' move was an emergent situation. Unfortunately, there are times when we are unable to provide much of a heads up or details during transitions like this. Jennie and I had to staff with the directors of our Agency in order to come up with a plan to avoid the girls being placed at Kids Kottage (which is only to be used in certain situations, AND Kids Kottage is already at maximum capacity). Our goal is to place children with relatives if we are able to do so.

I understand that there is some tension between the parents and the paternal grandmother – I respect that; I would just request that this meeting later this afternoon is productive and that things can move forward as a team in the most helpful way possible.

Thank you,

I am scheduled to see Eva and Alexis at Della's home at that time. I can be on the call at 4, but I will be very brief.

This meeting is needed because we need to come up with ground rules about what things can be discussed with the girls. The children are being exposed to adult conversations and information. The girls are telling Della they will be home within 6 weeks. That they should have been returned by now. That I am going to be fired. They are being told that Della is the reason they are in foster care.

Good Morning ,

I have spoke with Mr. Clark regarding this placement decision. He has a lot of concerns with his kids being placed with his mother. Can we schedule that meeting we discussed so the parents go through their concerns of this placement and for them to get better direction on what is needed by both of them for the CFRs?

Hello – Jennie is in the midst of moving the girls to be placed with paternal grandmother, Della Baker, in lieu of having to place them at Kids Kottage. The girls will be placed there at some point this afternoon/evening, and the Agency will be working to provide her with bunk beds for the girls and any other needed supplies.

Please reach out if you have any questions.

Jennifer, I apologize for not adding you to the notice.

At this point, Ms. McCafferty's mental health has not been addressed. She has avoided therapy and refused to sign a release of information for ACCS to communicate with her therapist to ensure therapeutic services are being provided ethically. She has also not demonstrated being truthful and reliable with her comments. Mr. Clark and Ms. McCafferty have not addressed any domestic violence. They deny any domestic violence occurred in the home. Mr. Clark denies that the holes in the walls were caused by his punching holes in the walls; however, his children report that Mr. Clark punched holes in the walls. The couple has not begun to discuss how they would protect the children from the other parent. The home is marginal at best, and the parents have not demonstrated an ability to maintain cleanliness to the home.

Good Morning,

I am adding the children's attorney to this email string. I do not see Jennifer Jeans in the original one so I am unsure if she was notified of the placement change.

I am requesting a team meeting to discuss the parents conditions for return status as soon as possible.

I believed at our last court hearing, we were very close to meeting the CFRs. I would hate for the girls to move into another foster home when they can be returned home soon. I am objecting to placement for these reasons until we can all discuss further.

Please let me know if we can get something scheduled asap to discuss.

Once again my questions haven't been answered my kids are being punished because I stuck up for them. The state claims I as neglected my kids yet the state is neglecting them more I ever have and we still have no answers. Jenny you told yourself with my attorney that my kids wouldn't pay the repercussions for me advocating for them. I have trusted you yet my kids are paying those repercussions I am willing to do anything to bring them home what can I do.

Hello,

I wanted everyone to know that Eva and Alexis had a meet and greet with a different foster parent tonight. It appeared the introduction went well. Eva and more so Alexis were comfortable with the idea of moving to his home. I have not had the opportunity to confirm the foster parent's intent. If all parties agree, we will develop a transition plan early next week.

I hope you have a nice weekend.

I have a another question on Tuesday Evakay made a odd statement about not wanting to return to kids cottage. Alexis also made a similar statement on Thursday about not wanting to go back to kids cottage. We assured them they wouldn't be going back there or anything else that we knew of. We aren't supposed to share this info seems odd they had details before we even did. This all feels like it is directly because of my report and seems my girls knew something prior about them wanting to change homes.

Hello,

I wanted you to be aware that we are in the process of exploring a different foster home for Eva and Alexis. The foster parents have given a 10-day notice to have the children moved. We are unsure of when that exactly will happen or what it will entail to have them moved. I will be taking the girls to meet the potential placement this afternoon after school. We would appreciate it if you would not discuss your knowledge of the potential change with the girls until we have more information.

Please let me know what questions or concerns you may have.
