I had to correct several things such as the biological fathers of my children the fact me and Donovan have been together 13 years several other things like about my grandfather and such she didn't pay attention to anything and when I corrected her she only charged the part about my kids dad's and nothing else and I'm concerned that my evaluation was not done incorrectly there for giving incorrect results you have to pay attention to someone to actually give them a proper evaluation

What is specifically wrong in the Evaluation?

I have been nothing but honest I'm concerned because the therapist that did my evaluation didn't listen to me so much I had to correct her on her evaluation so in order to get a proper evaluation I would need to be seen for that I have done everything to prove myself and a incorrect evaluation isn't going to help anything

Ms. McCafferty, ACCS has confirmed that you requested a new psych evaluation, that would require HSA to provide another voucher. We will not be providing another voucher since you have already completed one.

Ms. McCafferty, your honesty and integrity are the utmost importance to be able to implement an in-home safety plan and a key area with the Conditions for Return. I hope that we can bridge this area sooner rather than later.

Hi Megan,

Did you turn this paper into ACCS? Thanks for signing this release; however, the release that they need you to sign is so that ACCS can speak with your individual therapist that you were working with prior to ACCS.

Megan, I need you to understand that you're lack of engagement with mental health services is delaying your children reunifying with you. The children were removed not only due to Donovan's drug use, but also your mental health. We could not consider an in-home safety plan with the girls, primarily because of your lack of engagement in mental health care.
